National Y. W. C. A. To Hold Convention in Detroit

Plans Are Being Made to Have Representation Present at Annual Convention.

The National Convention of the Y. W. C. A. will meet in Detroit in April of this year. The call comes to each and every association to share in the deeper realization of life toward which the convention tends.

When delegates from many of the individual organizations throughout the country meet together, it is a time for taking stock, for measuring the distance that has been covered since the last similar meeting. It is also a time for adding renewed zeal and courage to the carrying out of the great purpose which the Y. W. C. A. has set for itself.

As the date draws near certain problems forge themselves to the front and demand attention. Among these, legislation relating to women in industry, legislation effecting children, the present educational system, marriage and divorce, immigration and legislation concerning it, prohibition enforcement, unemployment, international relations with especial emphasis on world peace, the southern textile situation, and social questions confronting women in rural associations are most important. The last is a new topic, one which has never before found a place on a convention program, but one which bids to be very vital at Detroit.

The general meetings will be held in the New Masonic Temple and group discussions will be carried on in Detroit's New ten story Y. W. C. A. building.

The real purpose of the convention as Miss Emma Baily Speer sees it is, in effect, that the will of God may be done in every heart and every life everywhere through the renewing of power and light until the dynamic of our faith and obedience have worked all its mighty changes."

STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN DECATUR

Agnes Scott to Be Host to Convention on February 14-16. Delegates to Attend

The Student Volunteer Conference which is to be held at Agnes Scott College in Decatur, from February 14 through 16, promises to be most interesting as well as most helpful.

The theme of the Conference is "The World Mission of Christianity," with special emphasis on the post of Christian Missions from Pentecost to the present time and the great unfinished task which is challenging the Church of Christ today. Some discussion will also be centered around present day world conditions, social, economic, political, educational, and spiritual, Christ's claim on the lives of students, the great commission, and the adequacy of Jesus Christ to meet the needs of the world.

Among the speakers for the conference are to be found the names of outstanding leaders in the Student Volunteer Movement, Rev. Weyman Hucksabee of New York City; Dr. C. Darby Fulton of Nashville, Tenn.; Rev. J. W. Connally of Augusta; Dr. Patterson of China and many others in the mission work of Protestant churches.

Miss Robertine MacClendon
PRESIDENT OF THE Y. W. C. A.

PURPOSE OF THE Y. W. C. A.

We the members of the Young Women's Christian Association of the Georgia State College for Women unite in the desire to realize rich and creative life through a growing knowledge of God.

We determine to make this life possible for all people. In this task we seek to understand Jesus and to follow Him.

INTERCLASS DEBATE TO BE HELD IN APRIL

Each of the four classes is looking forward to winning the interclass debate, Saturday night, April 3, 1930. Perhaps you say it is a long time off but it is a pleasure to anticipate such events and when the time comes it must be the best annual debate G. S. C. has ever had. So boost your debater. She is counting on your support, and with it she can easily win.

The following class representatives have been elected. Helen Hensley, Freshman; Kathryn Vinson, Sophomore; Norma Dunaway, Junior; and Robertine McClellon, Senior. These girls, having been carefully chosen, will make the subject very interesting. Because the subject is a vital current issue you must know it: Resolved: That China was right in insisting that all nations give up extraterritorial privileges in China on January 1, 1930. The sophomore and Senior debaters will take the affirmative side.

The debate is sponsored by the Christian World Education Committee of the Y. W. C. A. with Mildred McWhorter as chairman, Mary Eliot as head of the department, and Miss Winifred Crowell as faculty advisor. Remember the topic that April the fifth holds in store for every G. S. C. girl.

MRS. NELLE WOMACK HINES TO PRESENT PLAY

Mrs. Nelle Womack Hines announces that she has completed plans for a musical comedy, "Bringing Out Daughter," to be given in the G. S. C. W. Auditorium on Saturday night, March 1.

The play is a regulation one, and the music is of Mrs. Hines' composition. The cast will be announced

G. S. C. STUDENTS SIGN TO DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

Petition Forwarded to Meeting in London Signed by Several Women's Organizations

A few weeks ago eighteen members of the Y. W. C. A. had the unique privilege of signing a petition which was one of the many carried by several women delegates to the London Disarmament Conference. A call was sent out and eleven of the largest organizations in the United States answered by signing the memorial which reads as follows.

To the Conference on Naval Reduction at London:

It is our firm belief that the majority of the publications in the United States is in steadfast agreement with the Paris Pact renouncing war and they are prepared to acclaim and support all acts of the conference which meet with their expectation.

We, therefore, entreat the honorable delegates not to stay their deliberations until effective means have been found.

To relieve the citizens of the Great Powers from the enormous and burdensome cost of the building and maintenance of Navy armament no longer required,

To reduce naval armament among the Great Powers to a point so low that our own and other nations may feel secure against attacks,

To end forever the competition in naval building among the Great Powers,

And thus—

To bring the relations of these Powers into more genuine accord with the principles of the General Part for the renunciation of war.

The group on our campus who signed this petition was composed of the

Miss Daughtry and Five Students Hear Mrs. John Hannah on Recent Visit to Macon

Mrs. John Hanna, national president of the Y. W. C. A., was the guest of the Macon Association at a luncheon given in her honor January 28. She spoke at this hour on several phases of the organization of which she is head.

"Back in 1914" Mrs. Hanna said, "when woman suffrage first came into existence and we were not as yet sure whether we needed it or not, I began to question the possibility of there being any platform available on which all women of the world might stand united politically. I decided that there was but one, the purpose of the Y. W. C. A., makes a fuller life possible for all people through a growing knowledge of God."

Mrs. Hanna even at that time was president of her own local association in Dallas, Texas, but she had a vision of the Y. W. C. A. as an international political power. Now it has become such according to her belief and being conscious of its importance, has moved its headquarters to Geneva.

In the days past after the War between the States, when the Y. W. C. A. was still young, its purpose was service; then in later years it began to be characterized by the term, "service instead of being an end in itself is a means toward accomplishing an end. The end toward which it looks is "the better way of life" which Christ knew and lived. Mrs. Hanna explained this development or evolution of ideas in a very interesting manner.

"It is evident that women often find themselves in a situation and

WHAT THE Y. W. C. A. EMBODIES

The Y. W. C. A. on our campus is not an organization apart. The leaders would, indeed, consider it a failure if its spirit did not carry out into our everyday lives. It is not a couple of rooms set apart for that work. Its scope is great enough to include everyone on the campus.

It is hard to define the Y. W. C. A. It is true that it consists of the concrete such as Vesper services, committees and conferences, but there is also a spirit cast abroad which recognizes each girl as an individual. It strives to reveal to her that there is beauty in spiritual living and that if she will only seek it she can find happiness.

The Y. W. C. A. purposes to reach each girl during her manifold development and add a touch of something far richer and lovelier than can be gained elsewhere.

LEADERSHIP

To a few we may refer as leaders. The people who know where to lead and how to lead wisely are much in demand.

Leadership demands strength of character and patience. It demands that the person leading go on in face of distress and fatigue. It demands an understanding heart and broad knowledge for many have to follow where the few lead.

THE POWER OF CUSTOM

"Custom," says Montaigne, "is a violent and treacherous schoolmistress. She by little and little slyly and unperceivedly slips in the foot of her authority, but having by this gentle and humble beginning, with the benefit of time, fixed and established it she then unmasks a furious and tyrannic countenance against which we have no more the courage or the power to lift up our eyes." Custom may also be a kind spirit that has power to call to our minds the dear ones by whom it was instituted.

How tenaciously we often cling to a long established custom when there is a possibility of something different, because we dislike to have a change in the precious ways of things as they are.

Nothing is dearer to our hearts than a few old and beautiful customs which through the years have gained momentum and come to us with the full strength and fineness of all the people who have known and loved them.

Happy indeed is the individual, organization or institution that has found the golden mean between slavery to custom and servility to innovation. The Y. W. C. A. on our campus is such an organization. In its long years of service to the womanhood of Georgia in helping them "to realize rich and creative life through a growing knowledge of God," the Y. W. C. A. has gathered to itself many customs that have brought joy to the hundreds of girls who have been a part of its circle of friendly hearts. As each year brings a new group of fine girls to our Y. W. C. A. so each year we have forming new ways of doing things that some day perhaps may become custom. Thus "the old order changeth giving place to new, lest one good custom should corrupt the world."

FRESHMEN HAVE CHARGE OF VESPERS SUNDAY EVENING

Twenty-eight girls from Miss Daughtry's Bible Study Class presented a Lee Memorial Service at vespers on Sunday evening, January 13th.

Mary Snow Johnson, who presided over the program, opened the services by announcing a song, "America the Beautiful," and a prayer led by Edna Rockwell. Then she explained that since it was the birthday of Robert E. Lee, one of the South's most popular heroes, his name had been chosen as the theme for the services, the three letters comprising it having been taken to stand for "Love," "Enthusiasm," and "Earnestness." These three qualities were made the subjects of short talks likewise "Lee" and "Patriotism."

Elizabeth Byrd spoke on "Lee." "Duty," Miss Byrd said, "was the keynote of Lee's life. When his course was once decided upon he never faltered. He refused to call upon his elders to make sacrifices or to endure privations that he was not willing to share. All in all he was a good knight and a true gentleman." Eugenia Lawrence, Eddie Baker, and Elizabeth Giddens read scriptures on "Love" preceding a talk on "Love" by Jeannette Tolbot. Miss Tolbot said, after repeating the verse: "Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three but the greatest of these is love," "Love that is genuine pours itself out like the sunshine or the rain that falls on the thirsty field."

"Th life without the power of love is like a sounding brass or a tingling symbol; no matter what else this life may possess it is worth nothing."

Following the scriptures and talk on "Love," were those on "Enthusiasm." Scriptures were given by Mildred Williams, Lola Mae Cox, and Nell Couch. Carolyn Moye was the speaker.

"Enthusiasm for service is an important thing," she declared. "We should always be eager and willing to serve our fellow man and thus follow the example of Jesus who always served in every way he could."

An organ solo, "The Lord is My Shepherd," was next rendered by Theo Hotch, Y. W. C. A. organist and, as it happens, also a freshman. The second "E" in Lee was taken to stand for "Earnestness." Scriptures were read by Louise Edwards, Ruth Cheshire, and Dorothy Bradberry. The talk was made by Martha Parker. "Earnest men," she began "are so few in the world that their very earnestness is the base of their nobility. Just as in a crowd men instinctively make way for one who seems eager to force his way through it, so mankind everywhere open their ranks to one who rushes joyously toward some object lying beyond them."

Caroline Hooten talked on "The Kind of Patriotism We Need." Patriotism today does not mean love of one's own country alone, but love of every country. This new world patriotism is necessary to bring about world peace and if Robert E. Lee were living today he would probably be a leader in the movement for world peace."

A chain of prayer, was offered by Margaret McClellan, Kathryn Majors, and Julia Walton. "Follow the Gleam" was sung as the closing song.

"The membership of the Y. W. C. A. as a whole is one of the most courageous groups of women in the world," casually remarked Sherwood Anderson the novelist and humorous writer, when discussing the opportunity of women in the world today.

WOMEN IN THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD OF GEORGIA

Nineteen of the one hundred and sixty-one counties of Georgia have women for county school superintendents. According to the annual report of 1928, the elementary teachers in the white schools of the state number 9,487, and the high school teachers, 1,781. All of these are women.

OLD STUDENTS RETURN TO CONTINUE WORK

The students who have formally received diplomas or degrees from G. S. C. and have returned to continue work this semester are: Miss Eloise Dye, Griffin; Alma Gladin, McIntyre; Evelyn Jones, Americus; Elizabeth McClelland, Grovetown; Cornelia Veal, Oconee; Isabel Clatt, Lincolnton; Florene Hatcher, Wrights ville; Myrtle Lou Sears, Carrolton; Daisy Fowler, Mrs. Hattie Allen Garrard, and Mrs. Katherine Tunnell of Milledgeville.

WAKE UP

"Get up when you wake up and wake up when you get up." A little boy in a mountain school in North Georgia suggested this as a motto for his class. What a bright and glorious world this would be if each of us would take it for our own especially on mornings of these eight o'clock classes.

"Get up when you wake up" doesn't mean one more snooze after the whistle has blown. "Wake up when you get up" cannot mean sprinkling sugar on your grins and putting butter in your coffee. No, it means just what it says, "Get up when you wake up and wake up when you get up."

NORMAL CURVE

I begin to meditate upon my report card for the last semester, and consequently, I have adopted this motto, "Dangerous curves ahead."

HOBBY GROUP LEADER

HANCRAFT HOBBY GROUP

Handcraft is our hobby under the direction of Fannie McLellan and Helen Leggett. We have had much fun using the coffee cans, coat hangers, and pliers to make our doorstops, getting printers ink on our hands in making our Christmas cards, and using the linings of envelopes to cover bowls and waste baskets. In other words we have learned to be thrifty and create.

I'm sure if the other freshmen knew how much fun we have in this group, they would all want to join us.

EDUCATION CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The program of the January meeting of the Education Club was based on a study of the leading psychologists of Europe and America. Fannie McLellan gave a most interesting talk on "The Leading Psychologists of Europe" after which Dr. Meadows spoke of "The Leading Psychologists of America." These were followed by an interesting informal discussion. Attractive programs have been planned for both the February and March meetings.

THE KODAKERY HOBBY GROUP

By Frances Jackson

Of all the Freshman hobby groups on our campus we know there's not one which can surpass our Kodakery group. We are a loyal little band enthused over our Friday afternoon meetings and intensely interested in our work. As yet we have not been able to take any snapshots but we have studied our kodaks and have become more familiar with them because they are the tools with which we are going to work in laboratory make blue prints. Several of our meetings have been in the form of little hikes which helped warm us up on those cold days.

We are glad to know the spring time and pretty weather are coming because our leader, Miss Mabel Rogers, has promised us lots of those enjoyable walks so that we can find the beautiful spots around our campus and, we're looking forward to taking some rare and unusual pictures. These will be our treasures which will forever remind us of our happy days at G. S. C. and especially when we were merely Freshmen in the Kodakery Hobby Group.

The officers for our group are: Jewell Greene, President; Frances Jackson, Secretary-Treasurer; Ora Guim, Reporter.

THE DRAMATIC HOBBY GROUP

By Marie Goodyear

The Dramatic Hobby Group is advised by Miss Ruth Stone. Miss Frances Fordham is Business Manager. The board of officers is president, Marie Goodyear; vice-president, Elizabeth Smith; secretary, Jo Barron; treasurer, Nell English. The club is interested in the study and production of short plays. Each Friday a program carrying out this idea is presented by one of the divisions of the hobby group. At present, under the supervision of Miss Stone and Frances, the group is beginning work on a simple play to be presented at vespers shortly.

THE CAMPCRAFT HOBBY GROUP

By Ag Sheehan

The Campercraft Hobby Group, under the leadership of Mrs. Horsburgh and Catherine Calloway, is just getting into full swing, and we are all looking forward to spring. In fact, we can hardly wait—the woods in the spring, picnics, hikes "n everything! We've just been "kinda" getting acquainted with the other campercrafters and learning a little about first aid. Catherine Calloway knows 'most all there is to know about it. Sure we're still going to have that wonderful hike you've been hearing about—if such dismal things as exams and rainy days will cease. Wanna go? Come on, the more the merrier!

EDUCATION CLUB PARTY

The Education Club held a Valentine party Tuesday evening, January 28. The tea-room was decorated with cupids and hearts. Many lovely costumes were worn by the members.

Miss Ruth Stone presented each member with a Valentine. A completion contest was held and Helen Hall, as winner, was awarded a life-size doll. In the dime contest Robbie MacLendon won a lollipop doll. Standing behind a decorated frame, Irma Vaughn represented the old-fashioned girl as she sang a solo. Helen Hall sang from the same frame representing the modern girl, accompanied on the guitar by Virginia Kenan. The Valentine idea was further carried out in the red punch and white cakes which were served at the refreshment hour.

HISTORY CLUB ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

The officers elected by the History Club for the new semester are: Lillian Brown, president; Lizzie Mae Gammage, vice-president; Gertrude Cooper, secretary; Margaret Rucker, treasurer.

TWENTY-ONE STUDENTS ADMITTED IN FEBRUARY

In addition to the old students who returned to continue work at the opening of the new semester twenty-one new ones were welcomed to the college. They are Carrie Bell Bloodworth, Helen Camigan, Melvin Davis, Grace Ethridge, Esta Leis Franklin, Elizabeth Furlow, Mamie Kate Gilmore, Virginia Hill, Elsie Humphrey, Louise Mauldin, Mary Newby, Nina Norman, Mrs. J. M. Shepherd, Sara Singleton, Vanice Horton, Lillian Midlinger, Elizabeth Van Valkenburg, Mercer D. Watson, Mary L. Weaver, Eva Mae Weeks, Marguerite Wright.

MIDDLE GEORGIA FAIR ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Middle Georgia Fair Association will meet in Milledgeville on Wednesday, February 12. Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the Georgia State College of Agriculture, will speak at two o'clock in the G. S. C. W. auditorium. Dr. Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, will also speak. Citizens of Milledgeville and the surrounding district, as well as interested men from various parts of the state, are expected to attend.

On Wednesday morning Dr. Soule will speak at chapel.

THREE NEW MEMBERS ELECTED TO CORINTHIAN STAFF

Three members of the Corinthian Staff completed the required work for their degrees at the end of the past semester. They were Willie Baker and Dorothy Jay, literary editors, and Ruth Jordan, Alumnae Editor. The staff wishes to welcome Carol Butts and Aldine Heard as appointees to fill the vacancies left by Misses Baker and Jay, and Mary Moore to fill that of Ruth Jordan.

MISS TEAVER'S BIBLE STUDY CLASS ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Miss Lorine Teaver's Bible Study Class elected new officers Sunday, February 9, for the new semester. The following were elected: President, Helen Barron; Vice-President, Margaret Rucker; Secretary and Treasurer, Mary Ernest Norris, Chairman of program committee, Beth Saunders and Louise Rice, Vesta Smith. The officers will meet this week to plan interesting work for the new semester.

The members of Miss Daughtry's Bible Study Class and five guests spent the entire afternoon of last Saturday in the great out-of-doors. The climax of this excursion was reached when everybody crowded around a campfire at Nesbit Woods and cooked supper.

These present were: Eddie Baker, Dorothy Bradberry, Elizabeth Byrd, Ruth Cheshire, Nellie Couch, Onie DeLoach, Louise Edwards, Elizabeth Giddens, Caroline Hooten, Marion Houser, Mary Snow Johnson, Kathryn Majors, Frances Martin, Carolyn Moye, Martha Parker, Pauline Roberts, Jeannette Tolbot, Sara Howard, Miss Annie Moore Daughtry, Alvarotta Keenan, Oscie Respass, Austelle Adams, Robertine McClelland and Dorcas Rucker.

BIBLE STUDY ELECTION

On Sunday, January 26, 1930, Dr. Webber's Bible Study Class had a short business meeting for the purpose of electing new officers for the new semester. The results of the election were as follows: Frances Fordham, president; Alvarotta Keenan, secretary; Celia McCall, chairman of the program committee; Robbie McClelland, chairman of the social committee.

THE SKATING HOBBY GROUP

By Virginia Clarke

Up the hill, down the hill, don't you fall and break your bill! Come on, girls, Miss Smith's Skating Hobby Group is the liveliest, peppiest bunch you most ever saw. Haven't you seen them out on their weekly skate? They have fun and wish you would too.

Just before exams we planned to pitch a huge hike, but it rained the very Monday we hoped it wouldn't. Now that we've been sufficiently scared and suffered enough over finals, we hope to be able to have our fun soon. The group is not very large, and if there are any proficient skaters among you girls who have not yet joined "a regular bunch," why, we're expecting to see you at the Big Gym next Friday afternoon.

FRESHMEN THEMSELVES TELL ABOUT HOBBY GROUPS

The Sewing Hobby Group

By MARGARET MUSE

"Has anybody seen any white thread?" "I haven't any, but where are my scissors?" "Have any of you seen a stray needle?" (Outside.)

"What's all that racket in Terrell Big Parlor? It sounds like an Old Maids' Convention."

"Well, as this is Friday afternoon and it's five-thirty, it must be the Sewing Hobby Group. My roommate is in it and she is crazy about it."

"What do they do?"

"Before Christmas they made the cutest little purses, novelty pillows, towels, and loads of other darling gifts. This spring each one of them is going to make a dress and after that anything they want. It certainly is a most interesting hobby group."

The Hiking Hobby Group

By FRANCES ADAMS

The Freshmen who joined the hiking hobby groups are fortunate in being members of this group. Instead of having all meet together there are many small groups with leaders for each one. Dorcas Rucker is leader of the Atkinson Hiking Group, Mrs. Dorris of Bell, Miss Perkins of Terrell B and C, Miss Sarah Bigham of Terrell Proper and Terrell A, and Miss Eleanor Ennis of Ennis and Mansion.

The girls joined this particular hobby for various reasons. Some joined because they never walk any except when a group goes out on Friday afternoons; some joined because they want to see more of the surroundings of the campus; and I imagine some joined because they can have their walk for reducing some. There might be some who don't have a reason, but they've found out what real fun it is now and never miss an afternoon.

The girls who belong to the hiking group learn more new girls each Friday. They may walk and talk at the same time and become better acquainted.

If there are any Freshmen who have not joined a hobby group just go hiking with us, and you will not want to miss a single Friday afternoon.

NEW BIBLE STUDY SECRETARY APPOINTED

Miss Farise Sasser has been appointed to succeed Miss Idolene Conby as Bible Study Secretary. The association regrets very much the loss of Miss Conby who completed the requirements for her A. B. degree at the close of January, and welcomes most heartily Miss Sasser as the new secretary.

FRESHMEN TO THE RESCUE

"Well, thank goodness! I stood my last exam this morning."

"I've studied for the past two days till I hardly know which end's up."

"I wish I had something to drink—a real good dope, say."

"Oh, I know where we can get something better'n a dope."

"Where?"

"Come on, and I'll show you."

At this the bunch of tired and voo-bedraggled girls troop off.

About ten minutes later another bunch of girls appear. Wait a minute! Those are the same girls we saw a moment ago. But my, how much happier they seem. Sh—let's learn why all the sudden change.

"Wasn't that a lovely tea?"

"I should say so. And it was so typically Freshman—the Council dressed like kids, you know, and in the class colors, at that."

"This idea of giving lollipops as favors is a wow."

Here at last we have found some enlightenment as to why every body we've seen for the past two hours has been sucking a lollipop. They have all been coming from a tea given by the Freshman Council from three-thirty o'clock in the "Y" room on the afternoon of January 27, which was a final exam day.

TWO NEW MEMBERS ELECTED TO CABINET

At the opening of the new semester two vacancies were to be filled on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; that of program chairman which was held by Willis Baker who completed her work and that of social service chairman which was held by Pearl Hackett who resigned because of an excessively heavy schedule. The membership of the "Y" greatly regrets the loss of these two cabinet members, but heartily welcomes Martha Archer and Ruth Lord as their successors.

"There should be one hundred more boys than girls on every campus," said Mrs. Hanna, National Y. W. C. President. She is a firm believer in co-education and deplores the astounding lack of it in the South.

SOCIAL NEWS

Miss Elise McNary of Roberta, spent the week-end of February 2, with her sister, Marguerite McNary.

Miss Dorothy Little of Crawford was the week-end guest of Miss Mary Bohannon, February 2.

Miss Lorine Teaver visited at her home in Gabbettville, Georgia during the week of final examinations.

Bertha Childree has resumed her studies after a three weeks illness spent in Parks Memorial Hospital.

Miss Mary Raby of Macon spent the week-end of Feb. 8 with Miss Sarah Stokes.

Pauline Roberts of Montecello, had as her visitor her sister, Martha, on Sunday, February 2.

Miss Caroline Scott spent several days at her home in Union Point recently.

The Y. W. C. A. misses Thelma Smalley and Miss Gertrude Anderson. We are glad, however, that both are improving.

Miss Spencer Darden of Newnan was the guest of Misses Lilla Wood, Sally Bryant, and Mary Bohannon Sunday, February 2.

Mr. R. Henry Wooten of this city says, "No girl's education is complete without the influence of the Y. W. C. A."

Mrs. H. S. Wooten, head of the Health Department, will go next Thursday to Charleston, S. C., where she will speak before the health workers there.

Miss Alveretta Kenan, Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., spent several days in the city hospital and Parks Memorial recently where she underwent an operation for tonsillitis.

Misses Jewell and Decora Adams, who are teachers at Swainsboro, Ga. were the guests of their sisters, Austelle and Frances Adams, for the week-end of January 25 and 26.

Miss Austelle Adams who completed her requirements for an A. B. degree at the end of the past semester, is remaining on the campus as a teacher of French in the Peabody Practice School.

THE CABINET TEA

On Saturday, January 25, the Cabinet was hostess at the opening round of teas sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. during the week-end of exams.

Members of the Cabinet and Miss Daughtry greeted the guests and ushered them into the "Y" room where they were served cake and punch.

A yellow and white color motif was carried out in the punch and mints and soft glowing candles lent beauty to the occasion.

The twenty-five hostesses were lovely in their afternoon frocks of pastel colors.

Members of both student body and faculty called between 3:30 and 5:30.

THE TERRELLS ENTERTAIN

Tuesday night, January 28, the Terrell family formally entertained, from 8:30 - 9:30, at a most delightful reception in the Parlors of Terrell proper, which were all thrown open for the occasion and most artistically decorated with pink carnations, ferns, and cherry blossoms. Dr. and Mrs. Beeson and Mr. and Mrs. Fowler were the guests of the evening besides the Terrell children. A more colorful array of evening dresses has never been seen on the campus. The orchestra from all three of the dormitories rendered lovely music throughout the hour.

Those in the receiving line were Mrs. Kiser, Mrs. Key, and twelve dormitory officers. In the "Y" room and in the other round room punch bowls embedded in a mass of green and assorted sweet crackers greeted the guests.

DR. DANIEL'S BIBLE CLASS TO HAVE VALENTINE PARTY

The members of Dr. Daniel's Bible Class, with Miss Leona Tarpley as social chairman, are planning a lovely Valentine party to be given at the log cabin in Government Square Park on the evening of February 14.

DR. AND MRS. WYNN ENTERTAIN JOURNALISM CLASS

Dr. and Mrs. William T. Wynn entertained the class in Journalism on Saturday afternoon of January the twenty-fourth at their home on Clarke Street. Dorcas Rucker was given a fountain pen by Dr. Wynn for having published the greatest number of inches since beginning the course. After a delightful social hour, hot chocolate and cake were served by Mrs. Wynn and her daughter, Mildred. The guests were, Carroll J. Butts, Caroline Selman, Willie Baker, Dorcas Rucker, Kathleen Hatcher, Ruth Lowe, Kathryn Vinson, Beatrice Howard, Mary Jennings, Corienne Yearly, Elizabeth Carr, and Virginia Kenan.

It has been said that "East is East and West is West, but never the twain shall meet." However, on Monday during examinations, tired students got a breath of the entrancing, luring Orient at the Oriental Tea sponsored by the Sophomore Commissioners.

The "Y" Room was literally a garden of the Orient with its bright lanterns, its branches of cherry blossoms, and subtle aroma of incense. The guests were served by girls in Oriental costume, and entertained with Japanese songs sung by Elizabeth Tucker.

THE SCIENCE CLUB

Members of the Science Club assembled in the biology lecture room Tuesday afternoon at 5:30.

An interesting program was offered, the study for the afternoon being aluminum. Dorothy Bryant discussed the history and the occurrence of aluminum. Louise Lowe presented the importance of aluminum in our every-day lives. Leona Tarpley gave an article on carbon monoxide gas.

The latter part of the meeting was devoted to business, and the discussion of a prospective social.

NATIONAL CONVENTION AND MRS. HANNA'S SPEECH DISCUSSED AT VESPER

The Vesper service for Sunday evening, February 9, was centered on important topics in the speech given by Mrs. John Hanna, National "Y" President, on her recent visit to Macon.

Margaret Coyne brought a vivid picture of the club room and guests at the luncheon where Mrs. Hanna spoke as well as something concerning the leaders and guests present.

Robertine MacClendon brought to the membership out standing features in Mrs. Hanna's personality.

Fannie McClellan and Dorcas Rucker endeavored to bring to this association something of Mrs. Hanna's message and her interpretation of the call to National Convention. The closing prayer was led by Mildred McWhorter.

DR. DANIEL'S BIBLE CLASS ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

To fill the vacancies left by Austelle Adams and Anne Parham, both of whom completed their work in February, the following new officers were elected: Helen Hogan, secretary, leaving open the office of program chairman; Mildred McWhorter, program chairman; Leona Tarpley, social chairman.

This class regrets very much the loss of five members who receive their degrees at the end of the past semester, Austelle Adams, Anne Parham, Tussie Bennett, Catherine Wilcox, and Sue Roberts.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS FROM AFAR

The world is so big after all even when we join hands across the seas and across the continents. That is just what the Y. W. Cabinet thought when they received two lovely greetings, one from Mrs. John Norris, former secretary of the Y. W. C. A. here and now doing Mission work in Korea; the other from Emma Bailey Speer and Mary Ballings French, members of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A.

No, the world isn't so big after all for as "Miss" Oma said on her card, "Oh, East is East, and West is West. And never the twain shall meet, Till Earth and Sky stand presently at God's great judgement seat; But there is neither East nor West, Border, nor Breed, nor Birth, When Christmas comes with all its joy to make of one the earth."

SENIOR BIBLE STUDY CLASS ENTERTAINED

On Saturday evening, January 25, Dr. Daniel's Bible Class was invited to his home for the purpose of seeing the many interesting and beautiful things that he and Mrs. Daniels collected on their trip around the world. More than an hour was spent in exhibiting the various articles which ranged from an exquisitely carved ivory vase to the finest carved wooden toys from China. All in all the evening was one spent in what might be termed an international art gallery.

The members of the Bible study class present were Sarah Cross, Mildred McWhorter, Alice Lipford, Anne Parham, Miss Anna Millev, Helen Hogan, Sue Roberts, Jussie Bennett, Leona Tarpley, Catherine Wilcox, and Dorcas Rucker. The other guests included Miss L. R. G. Burfett, Mrs. Sarah Jordan Terry, Dr. Juanita Floyd, Mrs. H. B. Ennis, Dr. and Mrs. S. L. McGee, Mrs. L. G. McGee, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Wooten.

Mrs. Wooten and Mrs. Ennis assisted Mrs. Daniels in entertaining.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH

Dearest Parents, Undoubtedly you are apprehensive of my collegiate perspicacity. And I shall endeavor to acquaint you with my academic pre-eminence. Anon I shall cease this banality, but to alleviate your anguish I must confess that I am immethodically befuddled. In fact, I feel quite fugacious. Please, I implore you, do not remonstrate with me, but my recalcitrant physiological professor with immeasurable inequity has amalgamated my studies. The authorized presentation of facts that you find herein has caused me to succumb to a recumbent position.

Your devoted, Daughter
P. S. I flunked Health as this report card shows.

NEW FRESHMEN BIBLE STUDY TEACHERS APPOINTED

Miss Fannie McClellan has taken the place, as Bible Study teacher, of Miss Ruth Jordan. Miss Austelle Adams has become the teacher of Miss Dolly Jones' class. Both Miss Jones and Miss Jordan completed their work at the close the past semester.

MISS SMITH'S BIBLE STUDY CLASS ENJOYS HIKE

Miss Hallie Smith's Bible Class enjoys a hike to Government Square Park on Saturday afternoon, February 8. The entertainment was in charge of Mary Key Middleton, chairman of the social committee.

JUNIOR BIBLE STUDY CLASS ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The new officers elected for Miss Hallie Smith's Bible Study Class are as follows: president, Louise Connally; vice-president, Sara Harvey; secretary, Mildred Royal; chairman of program committee, Helen Southwell; chairman of social committee, Mary Key Middleton.

A TWENTIETH CENTURY FEATURE

In this day of modern features, radio features, and movie features, it is quite a source of wonder to me as to what will be a feature next. Everyone must have a feature. Why, even the best of the world's worst possesses a feature. Fashion has her feature in black and white ensembles. Nature has a feature in the budding trees and flowers. And even a pretty girl on our campus has a feature in her eyes. Just yesterday I overheard, "The new Ford has this feature—" Next I saw an advertisement "Featuring Miss America." In a newspaper I read, "The unique feature of the London Naval Conference is—" But to cap the climax I report to one of my classes and by way of explanation my learned prof utters this cryptic remark, "The feature that I shall introduce into this course—" And so on ad infinitum.

But still I am confronted with the perplexing problem, what makes a feature and what are its distinguishing characteristics? For I find that everyone from Queen Marie of Roumania to the Washerwoman of Main Street has a feature. I further learn that everything from the League of Nations to Philadelphia cream cheese has a feature. And so it is with great solemnity I ask you, "Do you know what a feature is?"

DR. ROBERTS SPEAKS AT VESPER SERVICE

The goodly number of G. S. C. W. students who attended the Vesper service in the auditorium on Sunday evening, February 2, were inspired by the interesting and helpful message of Dr. Livingston E. Roberts. His subject was Jesus in the Home of Martha and Mary. The interpretation of the story was practical and forceful. The question was asked "Which would we prefer as our hostess, Martha or Mary?" The more complete character would be the "happy medium" of these two.

The program is charge of Miss Vera Hunt was as follows: Choir—"The Lord Is in His Holy Temple." Congregation—"Break Thou the Bread of Life." Scripture Reading—Vera Hunt. Prayer—Rebecca Holbrook. Violin Solo—Elsie Rice. Talk—Dr. Roberts. Congregation—"Dear Lord and Father of Mankind." Dismissal by Mizpah.

G. S. C. W. For The Alumnae

January 28, 1930

Dear Students:

I am so glad to have a chance to help with the Y. W. C. A. Edition of the Colonade this year because one of my happy memories of G. S. C. W. is the time I worked on it last year (even the last day when I lacked a page and had to appeal to all my friends to help fill it up.)

I wouldn't take anything for my G. S. C. W. memories. I haven't begun to live in the past yet, but I think about school lots of times.

But there is something that makes all those memories dear to me and that is the feeling that I have been a part of the Georgia State College for Women and that as a member of the Alumnae Association I am still in a way a part.

Our Alma Mater says: "Through the years the standards of you Guide us to goals ever higher and true."

I believe that is the way most of us feel when we think about how much G. S. C. did for us. We want to do something for her and try to do this by making our lives worthwhile with the knowledge and experience she has given to us.

I guess you know I'm the Girl Reserve Secretary in Brunswick this year. I like my work very much. It was while I was working on the Y. W. C. A. Edition of the Colonade last year that I became interested in doing Girl Reserve Work. Miss Daughtry and I talked about her G. R. experiences and I decided I'd like to be a G. R. secretary.

Best wishes to each of you for success in your work and for your personal happiness always.

Sincerely,
FLORENCE ROGERS

VESPER SERVICE ON THRIFT, INDUSTRY AND PROMPTNESS

Miss Gertrude Gilmore, chairman of the Morning Watch committee, spoke at Vespers Thursday evening centering her thoughts around thrift, industry and promptness. "The thrifty girl is not likely to be very many things she should not be, because thrift in the very fabric of its code, demands from its disciples an allegiance to most things that are commendable and desirable," she said.

In her discussion she held up the parable of the ten virgins as an example of promptness. Several passages were read from Proverbs on industry.

Miss Mildred Butler lead the devotional choosing the parable of the talents as her scripture. Miss Helen Hall sang, "I Choose Jesus."

ALUMNAE BULLETIN PROGRESS

Work on a new bulletin of the Graduates of the Georgia State College for Women is progressing rapidly. Miss Katherine Scott, President of the Alumnae, is in charge of editing this new bulletin. Information has already been drawn from the student body of the College, and from as many counties as have answered after two letters have been sent to them. A double card is being sent to the old list of graduates (five thousand names), asking the correct address, date of graduation, maiden name, married name, higher degrees, and present occupation. Some graduates may receive duplicates, or get two cards through mistake. Please fill out the card carefully and return as soon as possible.

A bulletin, containing a complete list of the graduates through 1926, was published in September 1926, and prepared by Mrs. J. T. Terry. The new bulletin will contain a list of graduates through 1930, changes in name, changes in address, etc. Those in charge of editing the bulletin will make all corrections as notified. The co-operation of all graduates of the College and of the present students will be greatly appreciated. Mistakes are trying to be avoided, and if the bulletin is not accurate, it cannot be the fault of those who are working, planning, and looking forward to the completion of the bulletin of Graduates.

ALUMNAE AND Y. W. C. A.

One is practically the same as the other for the Alumnae if not quite one hundred percent members of the Y. W. C. A. is next door to it.

When we leave college some of our pleasantest campus members are of the "Y". We are proud of our "Y". We feel that it is a fine enterprise composed of splendid girls and we honor the work it is doing.

Remember then Y. W. C. A. and Alumnae all for one and one for all.

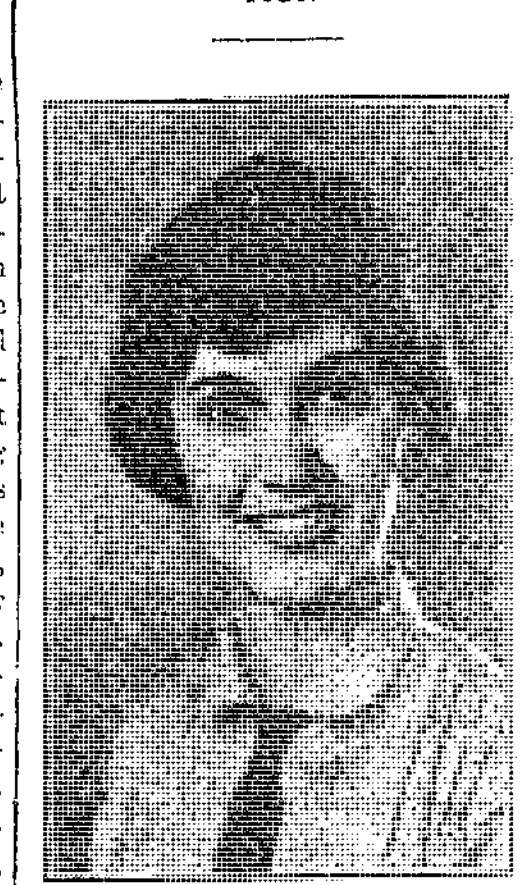

ALUMNAE HOSTESS AT TEA

Friday afternoon from 5:30-6:30 teh Alumnae entertained at tea in the college tea room the officers of the three upper classes, Y. W. C. A. executives, Editors-in-Chief and Alumnae editors of the Corinthian, Colonade and Spectrum, and president of Freshman council.

The guests seated in a circle informally discussed how the Alumnae and the students might become better acquainted. Of the suggestions made quite a few were very helpful. The problem of organizing an Alumnae club in our home town was brought up. Miss Brooks told of the ones already organized and stated that the best way she knew of organizing was "to get two buddies together and round in the crowd." Many expressed their opinion on the Alumnae scholarship which was thought by everyone to be an excellent undertaking.

During the hour delicious hot tea, mints, and orange toast was served.

FAYE SESSION VISITS ASSOCIATION

"Old friends are the best friends after all." The week-end of January 25, we were so fortunate to have our last year's "Y" president, Faye Sessions, visit us. On Saturday she was the guest of cabinet at one of the mid-year teas given in the "Y" room. Sunday night she was in charge of Vespers taking as her subject "The Call of Mission." Faye said that to each one of us comes the call and it is only when we hear that call that we should go.

She brought a freshness of spirit back with her to the campus and it lingers still.

"INTERNATIONAL THREADS"

"International Threads" has become very popular in many groups since it was published in the spring of 1929. It is of interest to all people who are trying to Christianity as it faces economic problems.

In this booklet Helen Thoburn has successfully woven together the significance of the three conferences held during the year of 1928, which met at Sacramento, Budapest, and Jerusalem, in order to indicate to members of the Y. W. C. A. a measure of their participation in the great trend of this generation towards the forming of a world order. The real value of "International Threads" may be determined by the words of appreciation from some of those people who have read and used the book.

"International Threads" is the kind of pamphlet an individual can sit down and read with a sense of being connected in a deeper way with the world's life and the kind that a group, either of girls or older women, can use for the sort of discussion that expands one's horizon.

If you wish to read this pamphlet you may secure it from the Christian World Education committee.

MORE OF THE SAME

This is a tale of a major homo Who had him a job as a major domo. He had a dog called Jumbo, And this ends my tale of a major dumbdo.

"THE WORLD IS TOO MUCH WITH US; LATE AND SOON, GETTING AND SPENDING, WE LAY WASTE OUR POWER; LITTLE WE SEE IN NATURE THAT IS OURS."

WILLIAM WORDSWORTH.

Wordsworth's statement is more true now than ever; the world is too much with us. We do not take time to observe Nature and to appreciate her great works of art. We cannot see the beauty of the sea, the charm of the flowers. Neither can we hear the sounds of the winds which are stirring at all hours. We are out of tune to these things. Instead, we are caught and carried on by the rushing tide of modern life. We lay waste all our native powers in the mad rush of getting and spending. As soon as we have gained that which we desire ever desirous of something more, we go on and on. We are forever trying to keep ahead of our neighbors in the purchase of this world's goods. On account of this, we have no time to enjoy the beauties and wonders of nature that are all around us. "Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers; Little we see in Nature that is ours."

THAT RISING BELL

Every morning I awake
With thoughts too sad to tell,
The same old tale I relate,
I hate that rising bell.

Every morning 'tis the same.
All possessions I would sell,
Rings, bracelets, jewels, fame
To break that rising bell.

Thrilling dreams left in mid-air,
Broken when my room mates yell,
Everywhere 'tis all I hear,
"I hate that rising bell."

Soon 'twill be a holiday;
Peace broken by no yells,
Luxuriously in bed I'll stay,
There'll be no rising bell.

HELEN LEGGETT.

January 25, 1930

Dear Students:

Recently the Girl Reserve Club of the school where I am teaching, gave a chapel program, which they concluded with "Follow the Glean." The song gave me the happy sensation of having met an old friend. Then there came to my mind memories of "Y" work at G. S. C. W. Even though it is considered a sign of old age, I'll have to say "those were good old days!"

I realize now, as never before, what a definite place the Y. W. C. A. holds on the G. S. C. campus. From a girl's arrival until her graduation, the organization plans and provides for her amusement, her mental development, and her spiritual growth. Of course this is true of every "Y", but in coming in contact with graduates from other schools, I find no student "Y" which touches so closely the lives of the girls as does ours. But the "Y" can not do it alone, so I would make a special plea to all of you to find your place in the work and give to it the best that you have.

I am wishing even greater success for the Y. W. C. A. in 1930. Here are good wishes for everyone on the campus. (I have missed you all!)

Sincerely,
CAROLINE CHENEY

ATTEND ASSOCIATION OF
GEORGIA COLLEGES

Dr. J. L. Beeson and Dr. E. H.
Scott attended the fourteenth annual session of the Association of Georgia Colleges held at the Piedmont Hotel in Atlanta, January 31 through Feb.
1.

The session opened with an informal dinner Friday evening. The relation of a liberal education to business and personnel methods in the small college were the topics for the two speeches of the occasion.

The discussions of the Saturday meeting were based primarily on the preparation which a liberal arts college furnishes for the secondary teacher.

All the major colleges of Georgia, including G. S. C. W., are members of the Association.

HISTORY CLUB TO PRESENT
GEORGIA DAY PROGRAM

The History Club, with Dr. Aman-faculty advisors, will present a playlet adopted from "The Holy Lover" as its annual Georgia Day chapel program.

"The Holy Lover" is the story of John Wesley's life in Georgia in which he is portrayed in the full flower of his religious ardor and courage.

The leading parts will be taken by Agnes Jones, Mildred McWhorter,
Farrise Sasser, Mary Griffin, Louise
Kent, Addie Parker, Caroline Tigner, Caroline Scott, and Mammie Norwood. Other members of the Club will appear during the course of the hour.
